

Dr. Yustina Saleh is the Senior Vice President of Analytics at Emsi with nearly 20 years of experience driving enterprise-wide transformation through a combination of leadership skills, advanced analytical techniques, and entrepreneurial innovation.

Yustina was a pioneer in using job postings for unstructured labor market supply/demand analytics, first as the Deputy Executive Director for Labor Market Information at the New Jersey Department of Labor and later with Burning Glass Technologies as their Director of Analytics and Strategic Research. Yustina left Burning Glass in 2014 and served as Director of Advanced Analytics for Huron Consulting, and Director of Analytics at Rutgers University prior to joining Emsi in 2017.

She is antagonistic to all one-size-fits-all solutions, especially when it comes to talent. Her obsession building tools to help job seekers personalize and optimize their career pathways. She and uses advanced statistical and machine-learning techniques to help workers, employers, and regions define their unique talent niches and then build talent strategies that enhance the strengths and bridge the gaps.

Dr. Saleh received her Bachelor's in Economics from the American University in Cairo and her Doctorate of Philosophy in Political Science from Rutgers University.